many pleasant memories kicking the dead leaves sprawled on a limb legs dangling the falling leaves blow sitting on scarecrow's shoulder a sentinel crow

713. Harvest moon lingers on the western horizon - in the East, the sun

714. Okinawan Fall - persistent cicadae shrills with each morning sun

715. The mushroom hunters -- coming from the hilltop shrine
I hear their laughter

716. Windswept autumn beach:
the sandcastle's ramparts fall on children's footprints

717. Full moon on the shore -- foam runs into the crab holes and the broken shells

✓ 718. midnight, and wet streets a powerline repair crew
in the autumn wind

719. outlines of bleachers in an empty baseball field September twilight in the autumn breeze outside a busy truckstop September sunrise

'Pon a quiet stream, and too
Where there is no stream

723. Radiant full moon:
Among shadows on my porch Insects roam about

724. Bum and bag lady Silently nod as they pass
Misty Autumn rain

725. With the harvest moon Everything mellows at last ---
And the crops are ripe.

726. Chrysanthemums bloom
In profusion in the yard.
The effort pays off.

727. It is the right time.
The face is on the pumpkin.
It's a happy time.

728. On Berkeley Hills
Bright lights go out one by one Soon mine too ... Autumn

729. Misty Autumn rain
Among photos on the wall Empty picture frame

✓ 730. In the Autumn wind
A quilt slowly unravels
And is blown away
